

The Waldorf-Astoria

New York

Nov 20 21

Dear Pat:-

I am in the big town

(et. 7.) tonight, I just came from the theater. I went with an old acquaintance of mine his name is William Friday, Barber by trade, born in N. Y. City. Lots of Irish jokes in the cast - the players were all jews. The show was in anyway, at 11 o'clock tonight in the theater district you can see more people than you would think was in the whole world. Tall Buildings, Electric Illumination, & Automobils in itself a wonderful sight. This is without doubt, the Greatest City in the World. I thought about, of our friend Michael Ambrose, this evening as I looked at the Hudson River, the City where he lived so long, and took part in public Affairs, (Mike was a member of the State Assembly.) I'll pass through his City of Jersey tomorrow, on my way to Washington. I will say to the Lord, have-mercy-on-him, I am having a sm of the old pipe just now before retiring, and then I would write this. I forgot to mention anything about Michael Byrnes, did he build his new town on the site of the old one. I am glad he is doing. Lower Village was the worst looking Place, most neglected one I see anywhere I was.

People

I often thought that the people around there might get together and fix up Lower Lower Village, such as leveled off them old houses, and do some thing for the sake of looks of the thing. These balconies should not own anything anyway. If ever I see it again I hope it will look different from what it did last time. So our hero Jerry Henry is the same he must be getting old now. But I hope your family and all friend about is in good health and so on. As the departure of this leaves us all on this side fairly well. I may write to you Washington, as I will have some spare time.

I don't know whether tis better not to tell Jim I writes to you or not. I dont like to offend him. You know I did not write to him for some time. I will leave it to you. you know best. Well go. By 12at I have my smoke finished and tis 4
